Free Movie Rentals Offered
For Community-Oriented Films

Showtime Video, of Grayling, is offering free rental of five special movies to Crawford County residents. The films are "Say No! To Drugs," "Not My Kid," (a drama about teenage drug abuse), "Strong Kids, Safe Kids," "Too Smart for Strangers," and "Drug Free Kids."

Showtime Video owner April Stuck said the films will be rented for free and distributed to various community and school groups as a community service. "There appears to be a great deal of concern on these topics as evidenced by the recent formation of so many groups to address these topics," she said. "We felt that our purchase of these movies and offering them for free rental provided a method for us, as a family and a business, to contribute a positive influence and to show our appreciation for the warm reception this community has given us."

$200,000 Adventure Golf
Course Planned Locally

By Don Geiss

The flatland adjoining Old Dam Party Store on West M-72 will be changed into a man-made hill this spring as construction will begin on an adventure golf course.

The challenging 18-hole course will begin to rise out of the ground as soon as the spring breakup starts and is expected to be completed about mid-June. Immediately east of the existing store a parking lot will be leveled to hold 50 cars. It will be situated between the store and course.

The Timber Rapids Adventure Golf, as owners Gary McLaughlin and Mark Hartman have chosen to call it, will make use of the trees on the site. In some cases the trunks will be protected with a wall so that they will continue to thrive. A waterfall built into the structure will pour down the side of the hill forming a stream that will be an obstacle for a number of the holes.

A surprise hole will also key around the stream with the end result to players a secret until the course is faced. A pump will recirculate 1,000 gallons of water per minute which will then be forced over the falls and collect in a pond at the base of the hill. A six-inch pipe will channel the water back out of the pond to again be circulated.

Another feature of the new recreational addition to the area will be a headquarters building (clubhouse) constructed to resemble a railroad depot. Hartman and McLaughlin plan to carry out the lumbering and hence the Milltown theme throughout the new course. Holes will be designed so that their silhouette will appear as an axe, tree or other lumbering theme. One hole will have two different cups with one of them to be played by the male and one by the female. Still another hole will be played under the waterfall.

The depot will contain an office, ticket sales counter and a game room and rest rooms. According to the two owners, in excess of $200,000 will be expended on the new development. They noted that the present ice cream structure has been donated to the Crawford County Fair Board and will eventually be removed to make room for the parking lot.

Riverside Shelter Opens
For Domestic Abuse Victims

By Don Geiss

An abused spouse can find a nearby protective home beginning this week as the River House Shelter in Grayling opens its doors.

Although the Crisis Line telephone system has provided contact with persons in need of assistance since October 13, 1986, it was necessary to transport those who needed a safe haven to homes in other cities.

In order to obtain the facility, many individuals and organizations cooperated. According to Flo House who is the full time client advocate at River House, Betsie Laurie, a therapist for Community Mental Health, encouraged the Department of Social Services to provide financial assistance.

About the same time the DSS distributed application forms to all counties of the state and indicated that projects which appeared to be best designed would be funded. Crawford County DSS director Robert Porter and Sister Mary Ellen Howard, then administrator of Mercy Hospital, discussed the possibility of the hospital sponsoring the project. Personnel were assigned by her to write a project to be submitted to the state DSS.

The project was subsequently approved and with the assistance of local DSS volunteer coordinator Donna O'Grady and Porter, a director and advocate were employed. House emphasized that the project is under the direct administration of Mercy Hospital.

Once the full time staff was in place and appropriate housing was found, the call for volunteers was sent out. At the same time community assistance was sought to furnish a home that would hold as many as 20 adults and children. House said that the community responded with thousands of items in clothing and furniture as well as enough to supply most of the kitchen needs.

House observed that at first some citizens raised the question of why such a shelter was needed here? Some people said that spouse abuse in this area is not too prevalent. She said that statistics in the first month of operation of the crisis line provided the answer to the question. She noted that of the first 24 calls received, 11 were transported to shelters. Of the 11, three needed medical care as well, she said. Since the crisis line began on October 13 calls or personal visits have been received from 56 persons in the Crawford, Otsego, Oscoda and Roscommon County area which the shelter covers.

The open house scheduled for Wednesday, February 11, from 3:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. signals the formal beginning of the shelter itself but evidence to date indicates that a number of dedicated ladies under the leadership of director Sue Amman have already been waging a war against battered spouses.

While the shelter is formally opened, House said, there are still a number of pieces of vital equipment that are needed. She noted that there are no laundering capabilities and no food freezer. She commented that a freezer would allow the shelter to take advantage of large quantity commodities as they become available. While there is a television set, she noted, it is not in very good shape and a VHS would be helpful for instructional purposes.

House said that a dedicated volunteer staff of about 15 ladies are assisting in the shelter and on the Crisis Line. They handle that line for a period of as long as 14 hours and more volunteers are necessary. Volunteers can handle Crisis Line calls with their own phone through Call-Forwarding service. House said that if a reader calls the telephone number of a friend and the call is answered with the words "Crisis Line" not to be surprised. That friend is simply being a Good Samaritan and helping someone in need. The Crisis Line number is 348-3169.

'87 Sports Carnival
Featured Best, Worst of Winter Weather

Sunshine and 40-degree temperatures opened the 62nd Annual Grayling Winter Sports Carnival on Saturday morning, and strong winds with minus 20 degree wind chill marked the closing day of the carnival Sunday.

The cold winds kept the number of persons entered in the downhill canoe race down a bit this year. But the highlight of the winter sports carnival still managed to attract about 20 teams to challenge the hill on Sunday afternoon.

Mark Horton and George Goodman teamed up to win the downhill canoe races at Hanson Hills. A team of Edinger and Sprague took second and Jack Harney and Bill Millikin took third.

On Saturday, five teams of two persons paddled canoes on the AuSable in the 2nd Annual Up the Downstream AuSable Canoe Race. With the amount of cold river water splashed around, this race is coming close to equalling the downhill canoe race as the whackiest event in the winter sports carnival.

Scott Wyskiel and James Sorenson paddled the fastest from Ray's to the back-bridge and back upstream to Ray's. Dean Morford and Allen Morford took second and defending champion Don Brooks and partner Thomas Brooks II took third in a photo finish ahead of Claude Halstead Jr. and Robert Lawe. Don Brooks (who won last year with Robert Fitzgerald) and Thomas Brooks got trapped between canoes in the race and had a canoe full of water. The photo finish also provided plenty of splashing. Joan Malinowski and Terri Shaw came in fifth.

In the Alpine ski races Saturday, 35 skiers raced the electronically-timed course.

Ian Andrus took 1st in the first and second grade race. Jason Rutter took 2nd and Mo Harwood 3rd. Tim Febey took 1st in the third and fourth grade boys. Shai Kelly took 1st in the third and fourth grade girls.

Dan Jurkovich took 1st in the fifth and sixth grade boys. Mitch McMillan took 2nd and Ryland Robbins 3rd.

Tony DiPonio took 1st in the seventh and eighth grade boys. Peter Opperman took 2nd and Shane Lovely 3rd.

Karen Febey took 1st in the seventh and eighth grade girls. Nicole Meagher took 2nd and Leslie Mesack 3rd.

John Meagher took 1st in the ninth to twelfth grade boys. Todd VanDeVen took 2nd. Herb Olson took 1st in men 19-29. Ralph Opperman took 2nd. John Alef took 1st in men 30 and older. Bob Vollmer took 2nd. Dorothy Scott took 1st in women 30 and older.

In the downhill innertube races Brooke Blaauw, 8, won the 5-8 age race. Scott Hartman, 8, took 2nd and Brand Ireland, 5, of Beaverton, took 3rd.

Nick Khoury, 10, of Lake Orion, won the 9-12 age race. Paul Hartman, 11, took 2nd and Jeremiah Blaauw, 10, took 3rd.

Peter Opperman, 14, won the 13-17 age race. Tony Walton, 16, took 2nd and John Meagher, 17, took 3rd.

In the pie eating contest Saturday Cory Moshier, 12, took first place.

Sunday morning 18 persons entered the cross-country ski poker run at Hanson Hills despite the bitter winds. Robert Vollmer, of Grayling, took first, Bill Thawette, of Troy, took 2nd, and Kenny Elliott, of Grayling, took 3rd.

On Saturday, Paul McClain won the Euchre tournament and won $75 for first place. Marilyn Hartman, Dee Findley, and Nancy Glasslee won $25 each by sharing second and third places. Thirty-six persons entered the competition Saturday.

On Sunday, the harsh weather kept the number of players down to six and Flo Mellon won the $75 first place prize. Cindy Bellanger won $50 for 2nd and Connie Pillon and Mark Hartman split third place and $25.

In the Winter Sports Carnival ice fishing contest held Jan. 1 to Feb. 4, Skip Madsen, of Skip's Sport Shop, announced six winners at the Kick-off dinner Thursday night. Randy Thompson took first place with the largest pike (32½ inches 8 lbs.) and largest bluegill (7½ inches). Eric Swander took first with the largest perch (11½ inches).

Dave Malinowski took 2nd with a 31-inch, 5½ lb. pike, Mike Kinsora took 2nd with an 11½-inch perch, and Connie Swander took 2nd with a six-inch bluegill. No walleyes

Mickey Lolich

Tom Tresh

Mickey Lolich and Tom Tresh, both heroes in World Series play, will highlight the Grayling Little League Clinic Saturday, Feb. 14, at the GHS gym.

Lolich led the Detroit Tigers to a comeback win in the 1968 World Series over St. Louis. The left-handed pitcher won games 2, 5, and 7 in the series while recording 20 strikeouts and posting a 1.67 E.R.A.

In the second world series game, Lolich hit his first major league home run to help his team to victory. In the deciding game seven, Lolich — pitching on two days rest — threw a superb game and picked both Lou Brock and Curt Flood off first base in the sixth inning.

Lolich was named the Most Valuable Player of the 1968 World Series.

In addition to his world series accomplishments, Lolich ranks among the top ten pitchers in career strikeouts and ranks second among lefthanders for career strikeouts.

His 217 victories put him in the top 60 for career wins and he is in the top 50 in shut outs.

In 1971, he led the major leagues in wins with 25, strikeouts with 308, and innings pitched with 376. In 1967 he led the major leagues with 6 shut outs.

He's the all-time Tiger strikeout leader, third in Tiger victories, and third in games pitched by a Tiger.

Lolich played for the Tigers from 1953 to 1975 before playing a year for the Mets in 1976 and a year for San Diego in 1978.

Tresh led the New York Yankees to the World Championship in 1962 when he hit .321 in the World Series and led the team in home runs, doubles, hits, runs scored, and stolen bases.

In 1963 in the World Series, Tresh again led the powerful Yankees in home runs, RBI's, and runs scored. In the 1964 World Series Tresh led the Yankees in RBI's and doubles.

During the regular season, Tresh earned Rookie of the Year honors in 1962 with 20 HR's, 26 doubles, 93 RBI's, 5 triples, and a .286 average. In 1965, Tresh was 2nd in the American League in total bases (287) and led the Yankees in home runs, RBI's, and batting average.

Tresh was named to the 1962 and 1963 All-Star team and earned a Gold Glove award in 1965.

Tresh played for the Yankees from 1961 to 1969 and the Tigers from 1969-70.

Tresh, now an assistant baseball coach at Central Michigan University, and Lolich will be guest speakers at the Grayling Little League Clinic Saturday.

Also giving talks and demonstrations will be Dean Kreiner, head coach at CMU, and Terry J. Lynch, head coach at Northwood Institute. Assisting the head baseball coaches with workshops will be John Northrup, Terry F. Lynch, Mick Cochran, and Fred Wolcott. All four were college baseball stars in Michigan who signed professional contracts. Wolcott, who played at the AAA level in the Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tiger organizations, is also the Grayling Viking head baseball coach.

The clinic begins at 1 p.m. and is designed for young baseball players and baseball coaches at all levels. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2 for children.

Joyce Named Chairman Of 2 Regional Boards

Garland "Bud" Joyce, chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, will be carrying a gavel with him throughout Michigan this year as he was named chairman of the Administration Board of the Northeast Michigan Consortium and chairman of the Michigan Association of Counties Labor and Manpower Steering Committee.

Joyce has served on the Northeast Consortium Board for four years, the last two years as vice-chairman. The Consortium represents eight counties and appropriates money for projects that provide jobs. Crawford County has received funds for the Fish Hatchery, $6,000 for an infra-red map project, and $4,000 for the recently opened Vic Wertz snowmobile trail.

Joyce said he wants to continue to see that Crawford receives its share of the money given out for jobs.

Joyce's appointment as chairman for the MAC Labor and Manpower Steering Committee comes after serving two years on the MAC Labor Committee.

Joyce is interested in planning regional labor seminars for county boards to help reduce the causes of labor grievances. He also wants to begin pushing for updated negotiating procedures in Public Act 312 which bans strikes by public personnel.

In addition to his election as Northeast Michigan Consortium chairman, the position also requires Joyce to be a member of two other boards, the eight-county Community Growth Alliance Board of Directors and the Michigan Job Training Partnership Association.

"Thorndike! You're back already! How do you do it? Everyone else in Crawford County catches the flu and stays sick for an entire week. You're back after two days out and you look great."

"Want to know my secret?"

"I sure do," Barnhopper says as he pulls out his handkerchief. "I'm starting to catch something and I don't want to feel miserable for a whole week."

"First thing you want to do is go check into a motel room," Thorndike says.

"A motel room? That's your secret?" Barnhopper asks.

"Check into a motel room and with two days rest you'll be good as new. Take it from me, Barnhopper, I had to learn the hard way. Last year I went home with a cold and it took me nine days to get better," says Thorndike.

"Last year, within 20 minutes after I called in sick, a co-worker stopped by with his magic vitamins to help me get better. He wanted me to take red vitamin E pills, orange vitamin C pills, purple vitamin B complex pills, and nine other assorted colors. Of course, he had to explain the benefits of each one."

"Luckily for me," Thorndike went on, "a door-to-door salesman stopped in and my co-worker got bored with the hour-long sales pitch and wandered out. That left me with the salesman who was nice enough to answer the phone for me. The only problem was he answered calls from phone salesmen and started ordering things C.O.D. for me."

"Sounds like a restful day at home," said Barnhopper.

"You're catching on," said Thorndike. "After I got rid of the salesman, my sister came over to check on me. She forced me to drink her awful chicken noodle soup and when I finally nodded off to take a nap, she put a mustard plaster on my chest. Fortunately the smell of my skin burning woke me up before the concoction melted through to my lungs."

"Did you ever get any rest?"

"Not until after my grandfather and nephew left," Thorndike said. "My grandfather scooped at the chicken noodle soup and pulled out a pint. Best cure for any ailment on earth — and in heaven and hell, he said. My nephew waited until my grandfather left and showed me a couple of small pills he guaranteed would make me sit up and feel like singing."

"Did you try them?" Barnhopper asked. "I fed them to my sister's goldfish and they didn't exactly perk up and start singing, although my sister did hum a little funeral march for them."

"Anyways, Barnhopper, my old buddy, don't stay home when you're sick. Buy a room in a motel, hotel, or somewhere. If you have to pay to stay somewhere, you'll probably be back on your feet a whole lot quicker than if you stay at home where all your friends and family can comfort you."

Letters to the Editor

Military Training Is Serious Business

Dear Mr. Thompson:
At the invitation of Mr. Don Welser in the February 5th Avalanche, I would like to take this opportunity to respond to him and to the community.

A Multipurpose Range Complex is a state-of-the-art training tool as it incorporates numerous types of weapon systems. Further, it is expensive, sophisticated, and vital to our national defense in as much as it enables our military personnel to survive on the modern battlefield. The American taxpayer would not want less for family members or themselves. If we ever need total mobilization for an armed conflict, advanced training is the key to future success. And while I am certain that military installations throughout the country often encounter sentiments such as those voiced by Mr.

Welser, his descriptions of the weapon systems to be used at Camp Grayling on this range complex would leave one with a false impression. The weapon systems being used today have been used for years, and except for the 120MM tank gun, the Camp Grayling armament inventory contains nothing unusual. Military training is a serious business, and in my opinion should not be ridiculed by anyone who enjoys the freedom afforded us in this country. Now, I respect Mr. Welser's right to voice his objections to what our military does, but I am quite certain that being informed and seeking cooperation will continue to accomplish much.

General Andrews (The Adjutant General of Michigan) has never had his head in the sand to my knowledge and has always been willing to explore the avenue for mutual cooperation in these matters. The Camp Commander's office, at Camp Grayling, is also open to anyone seeking information. One simply needs to take the time to write or to go to Camp Grayling for a discussion. General Andrews is in the Grayling area at various times, and I am certain he could avail his time to those courteous enough to set up an appointment, providing Mr. Welser would forego any reference to "inferiors" (I can only wonder at how many "inferiors" he has working for him). Perhaps the word he meant to use was "subordinates".

With regard to the military's effect on the wildlife environment: I might suggest that all interested parties do some homework and get involved with the DNR and become familiar with the State Laws related to this area. After all, using facts instead of personal opinions is generally how arguments are settled among civilized people.

Unfortunately, any military installation will encounter noise complaints, but the military tries to deal with the situation to the best of their ability. Due to the nature of military activities, they cannot always respond in a manner that suits everyone. As to "who in their right mind would move into this county?" I do put tongue-in-cheek and note that Mr. Welser admits to living here. But so do I, my friends, neighbors, and many others.

In closing, it should be noted that the taxpayers have invested a small fortune supporting the military and Camp Grayling in Crawford County. Do we really want to pay to relocate it on the Mexican border? I doubt it! Besides, if this idea had any real merit, I am certain it would have been tried by now. Discussing the writers of the Constitution can be hazardous, as they lived 200 years ago. So, let's come into 1987 and operate within our current laws, recognize that times change, and work to accomplish our goals with an objective understanding of the facts. A cooperative effort to better all of the community may be a difficult task and not everyone will agree, but the effort could be rewarding to all of us who are proud to call Grayling "Home".

The Guard Belongs --Somewhere Else

Sixteen years is a long time to disagree with virtually every position taken by a local, self-appointed, "watchdog" politician. Every time I saw Don Welser's name on something in the paper, I knew where I stood...on the other side.

This time it's different. Imagine the possibilities...a whole community organized a hundred and eighty degrees from where it used to be. Don, I'm sending along the first dollar to start making tiny bumper stickers that say "Somewhere Else." You can paste them right under all those other stickers you see that say "The Guard Belongs." Profits? Use them to pay for the posters advertising the helicopter hunt.

Thanks For Good Letter

Dear Editor:
In response to Joan Morrison's letter concerning surplus food, may I say "I wish I had written it." A concise, well informed letter, and addressed to the right people. We all owe this lady a large "Thank You" whatever the end results are. So...thank you.

Where Has Our Timber Gone?

Where oh where has all our timber gone? That's not really the question, we know where. It's been scalped by the scalpers and not replanted.

Our wild life has been disrupted, the trails are being destroyed, and our clean air is full of pollution from our new addition, who by the way are tax exempt. I can't believe the tax paying business people of Grayling put up with that. I wonder who gets the best deal from the money that's received for all the timber?

There must be someone somewhere that has some concern for the future of Grayling. Please put a stop to this long enough to make a plan for the future. Put a limit on progress and destruction, there is a tomorrow.

Objects To GHS Play Profanity

Dear Editor:
The Detroit Free Press in their sound off column ran the question "Do you think kids today swear more than they used to?" Over 80% of the people responding said "Yes." Then some of them put the full blame on parents. I disagree strongly with this.

I attended the school play on Friday, Jan. 30. The actors had their parts down well and the play was hilarious. There were about 70 people in attendance, three from my house. I could really have enjoyed the evening if there had not been so much profanity in it. We do not use that kind of language in our home and I object to hearing it from a pretty young girl's lips. I know there are decent plays to choose from.

I can hear someone say right now "Why not call the school?" It's been my experience that it doesn't do much good to call the school! I will attend one more school play because I feel the community should support the students, but if the next play has the same objectionable language, it will be the last one I'll attend.

There's a bright side, too

by Richard Millman

THESE ARE perilous times, as the typical speechifier is likely to contend.

There is war in Nicaragua, and the Middle East, and Afghanistan, and two or three other world trouble spots.

There is internal unrest in the Philippines, and South Africa, and almost every other country on the globe.

There is economic uncertainty everywhere you look... disease is spreading... interracial strife is rearing a widespread and ugly presence... crime runs rampant... Washington is in an uproar over clandestine international arms dealing, and some contend the presidency itself is threatened.

These are, indeed, perilous times. But there is a bright side, too.

Consider, for example, some recent stories which have commanded the public attention.

DOES OUR Secretary of State, the Hon. George M. Shultz, have a tiger tattooed on his buttock, or does he not?

The question of Mr. Shultz's posterior has been in the news since an English newspaper called The Spectator reported that Mr. Shultz has a tattoo of a tiger on his left rump, citing an unnamed New York banker as its news source.

The State Department, as it does in many cases, chooses to remain silent.

"It's not a foreign policy question," said one spokesman.

"I'm just not in a position to comment," said another, and — since this information came from a female spokesperson — it's probably just as well.

Mr. Shultz, for his part, remained silent.

Informed sources — always up on things in Washington — indicated Mr. Shultz had the tiger tattoo added to his epidermis while he was a student at Princeton, for which the tiger serves as mascot; this theory makes sense, considering the mood of most college students, even future world diplomats.

But the debate goes on: Does he or doesn't he?

THEN THERE'S the famous W-4. That's the new tax form which every employee in the country must file this year indicating how much federal income tax should be withheld from paychecks.

This new W-4 withholding form is part of last year's tax simplification law, which promises lower tax rates.

But the new W-4 is four pages long; the old one was two pages long. The new one is about as complicated as a normal IRS form, and has driven up the wall enough ordinary citizens to stimulate promise of official review.

Secretary of Treasury James Baker, who technically also heads the IRS, has promised review and simplification of the simplification. He also dodges a bit, illustrating his extensive background in politics.

"I'm in the fortunate position of being able to say that when the W-4 came through for approval, I was on vacation," Mr. Baker protested to a congressional committee. So were a lot of other folks at Treasury, apparently.

If the new W-4 is an example of simplification, most of us can hardly wait to see what the new "lower" tax rates really will do to us.

And when you consider that the same government (although hopefully not the same individuals) designed the new W-4 as set up the program to curvy favor with "moderates" in Iran, and save the Western Hemisphere for democracy at the same time, then the whole scene in Washington starts to fall into place.

BUT POLITICS and government can't hog all the news highlights these days. There's also the situation involving the Rev. Oral Roberts of Oklahoma.

Mr. Roberts for some time has been telling his followers that they really ought to support his program to raise money for medical programs at Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, and a medical missionary program. The fund drive started in early 1986.

But the drive is several million dollars short. So Mr. Roberts indicated he talked the matter over with God, and God told him that if he didn't meet his quota by March, Mr. Roberts would be called back home.

For most salesmen who run into a quota problem, such a reprimand from the head office would be disturbing enough; but for Mr. Roberts, it's absolutely lethal...or heavenly, depending on one's point of view.

Mr. Roberts' latest approach to fund-raising has raised quite a furor, which it properly should. But one place it has little impact is in Las Vegas, where folks gamble on everything, and all within the limits of the law.

Bet-makers in Las Vegas, however, refuse to take a bet on when Oral Roberts will be called by God — although apparently some folks wanted to pick a day in March for Mr. Roberts' death, and plunk a few bucks down on their pick, sort of like an office Super Bowl pool.

We wait with interest what happens next.

CERTAINLY THESE are perilous times. Times always are perilous in some ways and to some folks.

But any time which also can produce concerns such as those involving Mr. Shultz, and W-4, and Oral Roberts, certainly has some silver linings, too.

All you have to do is look for them.

Laurie Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hubbell, celebrated her 8th birthday on Feb. 8. The Hubbell children are also celebrating the recent removal of the cast from their mother's leg. After nine long months of doing housework, they are looking forward to mother walking again.

Young Brian quipped that he is the only youngster in kindergarten with dishpan hands! Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Schreiber have a son born February 10 weighing 9 lbs. 1 oz.

His grandparents are the Albert Schreibers and Joseph Gildners. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Mead of Alpena have a baby girl, Joni Kay, born February 7th. She weighed 7 lbs. 11 1/2 ozs. Her grandparents are the Lewis Stillwagons of Grayling, Carlyle Mead and Mrs. Grace Pemberton of Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stillwagon of Lovells are great grandparents.

The Dr. Ralph Steffe family of Flint spent the weekend at their home, taking in the carnival events.

It's always nice to be able to write and publish one of those "Local Boy Makes Good" stories, but this one is really outstanding in that it can be announced that Ken Peterson, son of Mr. Hans Peterson of Grayling has been named the outdoor editor of the Flint Daily Journal...and to break the story the week that the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association held its Mid-Winter meeting in Grayling.

Ken was born in Grayling, graduated from Grayling High School in 1939. He made Grayling his home until 1942 when he entered the United States Army during World War II. Ken spent until 1945 in the service with 34 months of it in North Africa and Sicily. Prior to going into the service, Ken worked as a correspondent for the Bay City Times. This developed his interest in journalism, he said. Six years after leaving the service, Ken won his coveted Master's Degree from the University of Michigan. He served three years on the Port Huron Times Herald writing an outdoor column before moving to Flint.

The Kenneth Wymans were at Thunder Mt. for the ski races Sunday, accompanied by Jeanne and Mary Lee Marshall, who did some skiing too. Miss Janet Wyman and Vera Olson, NWMC, Traverse City, were home for the weekend.

Mrs. Grover Cox and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman and son Mike were in Traverse City Wednesday last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mathews of Grand Rapids were guest of Mr. and Mrs. Whitey Madsen over the weekend, and they also visited in Gaylord, their former home.

A Lou Kramer photo of the ice sculpture at the winter sports park has descriptive cutlines "Stands 62 feet in height. Sets on a base of ice in form of a star. At the corners in the foreground are two snow and ice cannons and nearby are American flags. The statue is lighted from within and on the outside there are floodlights from the base. An insulated burner within the statue furnishes smoke that comes from the torch. In the torch there is a red light, causing the smoke to be red. The statue stands on the shore of the main skating rink. It is a handsome and timely piece of architecture and is the handiwork of John Deckrow who has on many former occasions distinguished himself in the construction of winter thrones."

Bob Tetu and four boy friends of West Branch spent Sunday here enjoying the carnival. That night they were guests at dinner of the former's grandmother, Mrs. Henry Bousson.

Mrs. Hannah Miehli, Miss Marie Fargo and Barbara Wicking of Detroit were guests of Dr. and Mrs. C.G. Clippert and Billyann for several days during the winter sports carnival.

Warder and Sarah, twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Jappe Smith, were ten years old on the 5th so their mother invited in sixteen of their little friends to help them celebrate the occasion. They all had a grand time and the twins were the recipients of many gifts.

Misses Lucille Larson and Eileen Willnow of Adrian and Bernice Housler of Detroit came on the Snow train Sunday and visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward King of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. William Wythe of Holly spent the weekend in Grayling, coming for the winter sports carnival.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Wakeley of Lovells, a 12 pound son, Monday, February 11th.

Mr. O.P. Hanson of Bay City arrived Monday for a visit with relatives and friends.

Johannes Christenson of Fort Dodge, Iowa, came home to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Christenson of Beaver Creek Wednesday. Due to the delay in train schedule caused by the storms he was late in arriving here and had to cut his visit to one day, and thus returned the same night. Johannes is in the ambulance corps.

Harry Connine, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Connine of this city, finished a six-year law course at the University of Michigan, Feb. 6th, and has entered the offices of a law firm at Utica, New York.

Firefighters From Five Counties Eye Regional Training Group

On Thursday, January 22, a Planning Committee of firefighters from a five county area were called together at Kirtland Community College to discuss the feasibility of developing a Regional Fire Professionals Training Association that could address area-wide advanced and specialty training. This planning committee indicated that in frequent discussions at various meetings and conferences in the past, there is a strong interest and need for investigating the specialty training needs of local departments.

Kirtland Community College, in conjunction with Ed Holtcamp, Area Training Supervisor for the Michigan Firefighters Training Council, is exploring the possibility of "piloting" a system of training to answer training needs and benefit local fire departments throughout the rural five county area (Crawford, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Otsego, and Roscommon Counties).

There are many sources of excellent training programs available at the state and national level. In many instances, however, no one department or even two or three departments collectively are able to attract and utilize these resources. A consortium approach, assisted by an educational institution, has proven to be a viable system in certain rural areas in the upper peninsula.

In order to evaluate the degree of interest and commitment to training, the committee recommended that local input be sought from area fire departments.

A questionnaire was developed to determine local departmental needs, and their ability to participate. After the questionnaires have been tabulated, a meeting will be called of all local fire departments to share the results, and seek further input in regard to the association.

Members of the Planning Committee include: Loren Goodale (Crawford County); Jim Slazinski (Oscoda County); Gerald Karnafel (Ogemaw County); Jon Deming (Otsego County); and Edward Holtcamp, Area Training Supervisor/Michigan Firefighters Training Council (Roscommon County) and Dr. Steven Perry, Kirtland Community College.

'Adopt a Resident' Starts at GHCC

The Grayling Health Care Center (GHCC), in coordination with the Hillhaven Corporation, has introduced a new community program, the "Adopt a Resident" Program.

The "Adopt a Resident" Program opens the door for the community to participate in a personal way with individuals residing in nursing homes.

The program's theme is "Share your Heart — make a Friend." The "adoption" may include friendly visits, letter writing, celebrating birthdays and holidays together, bringing in children or pets to visit, hand holding or a variety of other activities.

"The only prerequisites necessary for 'adopting a resident' at the Grayling Health Care Center is a willingness to participate and a little bit of time," stated facility administrator, David Reynolds.

Community groups and individuals are currently involved including the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church Ladies' Auxiliary.

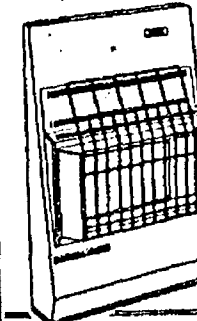

For more information on the "Adopt a Resident" Program call Nancy Holcomb, Activities Director at the Grayling Health Care Center, 517/348-2801.

RSVP's Man of the Month

The spotlight this month swings to Richard C. Stark, editor and producer of the RSVP Warbler, the monthly bulletin depicting activities of senior volunteers in the Crawford and Roscommon counties which is under the promotion of the Commission on Aging, and sponsored by Kirtland Community College.

Richard Stark comes by his creative instincts naturally as both his parents, George Stark and mother Anne Campbell (pen name) were long-time newspaper workers, having a very successful career with the Detroit News. Anne Campbell was a syndicated poet in addition to writing her poems for the Detroit News. It was through the encouragement of his parents that he chose a career in education and also in writing and publishing.

Richard Stark was born in Detroit, attended Detroit Country Day School, and graduated from Wayne State with a B.A. in Education. Stark was married to Elena for 25 years. She died in 1981. Their marriage was blessed with four offspring. Theresa, the eldest is an attorney in Washington, D.C., employed by the federal government. Twins Anne Spencer and George Stark were born while Richard was on an assignment in Florida. Jennifer, the youngest, resides in Boston.

Following his Wayne State graduation, Stark spent many years in Florida, working for the Space Program as a Technical writer at Cape Canaveral.

In between assignments Stark managed to find time to publish a number of Florida weekly papers. After the death of his wife Elena in 1981, he was at loose ends before moving back to Michigan. He settled in the Roscommon area, an area he was familiar with when his parents had summered at Higgins Lake for many years.

Currently Stark is a teacher on a part-time basis in the West Branch school district.

Retired and at age 65, he became interested in the RSVP through a meeting with Aleta Thompson, director of the Crawford and Roscommon counties unit of the RSVP. As an experienced newspaper publisher, he offered his services in the production of the monthly RSVP Warbler.

One of Mr. Stark's aspirations is to write a historical novel of his times and the lives of his parents who spent most of their careers writing about people.

North Branch Notes

By Marlene Harris
It was really fun talking to Harry and Irene Honey about his avocation as a beekeeper.

Since many people, in the past, took their name from their trade, Harry feels his Polish ancestors were once beekeepers. As a child, he always wanted to raise bees but couldn't follow his wishes until he retired.

Did you know that the bees are now sleeping through the winter months? They awaken periodically to eliminate their body wastes and change position so the bees in the inner circle of the hive rotate to the outside allowing their neighbors to warm themselves.

The hive feeds off of 70 pounds of honey during the winter and maintains a temperature of 93 degrees. A beehive is just like a self contained city. It has a queen in residence, along with police, nurses, and undertakers. In the summer, the scouts will range up to two miles until they find a good feeding place and then come back for their buddies. A queen can live two to three years but a drone dies after mating.

Replacement bees are shipped by mail from our southern states or as far away as Buckfast, England. Harry's hives are inspected regularly by the Department of Agriculture. He sells his honey locally and I'm told that a good production year can yield 100 pounds of honey.

Harry has given talks about his bees on our local radio station and at the request of various area clubs. He will be attending a seminar in March at MSU and has read many books on his favorite subject.

Harry was born on February 2, 1918, in Erie, Pennsylvania. His family moved to Detroit in 1920. In 1929, Harry's father, Frank Honey, went to Stalingrad, Russia, to help build a tractor plant as part of one of Russia's early five year plans.

He returned to the United States in 1930 and took his family back to Russia with him. Harry spent two years in Stalingrad as a young boy, going to school and learning the Russian language. Fortunately for Harry, his mother didn't like living in Russia so in 1932 she packed up her growing family and returned home. Harry recalls that as their boat pulled into New York harbor, the Statue of Liberty was a welcome sight. He tells me that the first thing they did after leaving the boat was to head for an ice cream parlor for a long awaited ice cream soda. This was an unheard of treat in Russia.

Harry's father remained in Russia until his death five years ago. During these years he obtained Russian citizenship, married again, became a noted Russian historian, and was awarded the "Order of Lenin".

Before he launched his career as beekeeper, Harry started his working life in 1936 as an apprentice tool and die maker at a small jobbing shop. He later worked at Dodge Main and then transferred to Chrysler Trenton in 1942. He has worked on the prototypes of most of the Chrysler engines including the prototype of Richard Petty's racing engines.

Irene was born in Detroit in 1921 where she has always lived until moving here. She worked in the school cafeteria and raised three children, Laura Shriner, Alan and Harry (Bud). Laura and her husband Tom live in Florida and have one son, Alan and his wife Ronnie have three children, while Bud and Gloria have a granddog and a Piper Cherokee airplane.

Harry and Irene have had a weekend retreat in the North Branch area since 1968 and moved here permanently on November 11, 1978. They had a company erect a shell and then they proceeded to finish it themselves, ending up with a lovely home.

Irene and Harry are two very active and busy people. Irene has worked at C.O.O.R. as an R.S.V.P. volunteer, bowls in a league in Lewiston, and is giving herself a refresher course on the piano. They both love cross country skiing and are active members of the "Swinging L's", a square dance group that meets the second and fourth Thursday of the month.

They also belong to a group of talented people who get together once a week to work on crafts. The ladies do quilting and basketweaving and the men are wood carvers. Harry has sold some of his beautiful hand carved ducks at Weaver's in Grayling.

Now that I have learned a little about bees, I can more thoroughly enjoy the delicious jar of honey from the Honeys.

Our sympathies are extended to Pat Force who is at home recuperating from a broken leg.

My sincere apologies to Lee Kellogg for reporting his birth year as 1902 when it is actually 1909. I told his wife Olive that he still looks great at whatever age he is.

8th Graders Push Win Streak To 9

By Karen Febey

The 8th grade boys won their 9th straight game in a row against Gaylord St. Mary's on Thursday the 5th. The score was 38-37.

The score was rather close almost the whole game. At the end of the 1st quarter the score was 19-16 with Grayling leading. At half-time the Vikings were leading 27-22, and at the 3rd quarter the Vikings were still leading 27-22.

Mike Tremblay led the team in scoring with 16 points. The other scorers were Scott Nicholas 6, Shane Fraser 5, Matt Branch 4, Kirk Annis 3, Ron Doe 2, and Karl Mead 2.

Coach Howard Lehti said "with less than two minutes to go we had an eight point lead. The team thought the game was over and we had won. We didn't play good the last two minutes because of that. I am stressing good defense all four quarters. I also think that rebounding was the key for winning the last couple games."

On Monday the 12th, the 8th grade boys basketball team won a close game against Gaylord 39-34.

The score in the 1st quarter was Gaylord leading 11-7, in the 2nd quarter Gaylord 20-19, and in the 3rd quarter Gaylord was still leading by one point with the score of 26-25.

The scorers were Mike Tremblay 9, Karl Mead 6, Kirk Annis 6, Shane Fraser 6, Ron Doe 5, Matt Branch 4, and Scott Nicholas 3.

Coach Lehti said, "Gaylord was prepared for the game. Their press bothered us all night. Our free throw shooting was poor and because of that, the score was close. Gaylord fouled a lot and we'll be more mentally prepared for them on the last game of the season before tournament play. Mike Tremblay played his best game coming off the bench to score 9. He also provided ball control against Gaylord's press."

The 7th grade boys basketball team lost 25-15 to Gaylord St. Mary's on Thursday the 5th.

In the first quarter Gaylord was leading by a close score of 7-4. After the third quarter Gaylord was leading 20-8.

Scott Haas had 6 points to lead the team in scoring. Chad Ormsbee had 2 points, Chad Denton 2, Eric Bonamie 2, Mark Andrus 2, and Shane Lovely 1.

Coach Dallas Hudson commented that Scott Haas, Mark Andrus, Chad Ormsbee, Eric Bonamie, Chad Denton, and Shane Lovely had a great game.

Both Grayling Ski Teams Slip On Icy Conditions

The Grayling Viking ski team competed in two invitational last week.

On Monday at Boyne Highlands in the Petoskey Invitational, the girls team finished in 4th place behind 1st place Harbor Springs, 2nd place Cadillac and 3rd place Petoskey while beating the 5th place Boyne City team and Petoskey and Cadillac "B" teams which finished 6th and 7th respectively.

Dual medalist for the Grayling girls and their top racer was Julie Huss who finished 4th in slalom and 3rd in giant slalom. Cari Longworth added to the Grayling medal count with an 8th place finish in slalom while narrowly missing a second medal in giant slalom by .16 seconds finishing in 11th place. Lori Gust placed 21st in slalom and 29th in giant slalom, Dena Thayer was 36th in slalom and 25th in giant slalom. Jenni Branch placed 24th in slalom and 33rd in giant slalom while Pam Lange was disqualified in slalom but came back in giant slalom for a 20th place finish.

The boys meet found Grayling's "A" team finishing in 6th place while the "B" team had to settle for 9th, as Cadillac took 1st, Petoskey's "A" team 2nd, Petoskey's "B" team 3rd, Harbor Springs' "A" team 4th, Cadillac's "B" team 5th, Harbor Springs' "B" team 7th and Boyne City 8th.

The Grayling boys were led by dual medalist Jayson Welser who collected a 6th place slalom finish together with a 5th place finish in giant slalom. Mike McNamara followed with a 37th place slalom finish and 32nd place in giant slalom, John Kraus 36th in slalom and 43rd in giant slalom, John Jurkovich who was disqualified in slalom but placed 33rd in giant slalom and Tim Hickey who was 35th in slalom and 44th in giant slalom.

Grayling's "B" team was led by Tim Pernie who placed 30th in slalom and 40th in giant slalom followed by Sean Isenhauer who was 38th in slalom and 42nd in giant slalom, Chad SanCarter who was 32nd in slalom and disqualified in giant slalom and Matt Cory who though disqualified in slalom, managed to finish

Grayling was down 9-14 in the deciding fifth game against Charlevoix when they rallied to keep their league record perfect at 4-0.

Charlevoix missed getting the serve in leading 14-9 and Michelle Moore brought the Vikings back with five straight points on her serve. Neither team moved off 14 for a while and then Jenny Money put in two shoot sets for the winning points.

Grayling's 4-0 mark ties them with an old foe, Rogers City. The Vikings could meet Rogers City with the league title hanging on the outcome. It might be the fourth year in a row Rogers City and Grayling square off to decide a league champion. Three years ago Grayling went to Rogers City with a chance to tie for the title. Two years ago both teams were undefeated and played in Grayling for the title. Last year both teams were again undefeated in league play and played for the title.

Jenny Money

Grayling lost those three matches but may have another chance this year in the GHS gym.

Grayling beat Charlevoix 15-7, 7-15, 15-7, 13-15, and 16-14. Viking coach Becky Brown said her players just went through one of those nights.

Vikings' Victory String Snapped With 1-Point Loss

Grayling's win streak stopped at 5 last week with losses to Roscommon, 68-67, and Cheboygan 67-56, at home.

But Viking coach Tom Mills said the team has continued to improve.

"The kids are playing well. Come tournament time we'll be ready," said Mills. "They played hard against Roscommon and made some key errors when they shouldn't have. Against Cheboygan the kids played good even losing by 11. Cheboygan has a good quality basketball team and we knew we had to play well just to stay with them."

In the Roscommon game, Dave Somerville sank an 18-foot shot with five seconds left to give Grayling a 67-66 lead. Roscommon called a time out and set up a nifty play. Two passes set up a shot for a Roscommon player and he was fouled with two seconds left. Scott Ament sank both shots for the victory.

"Roscommon had too

"Everyone was missing serves. We usually hit in more than 90 percent of our serves and we were at 50 or 60 percent against Charlevoix."

Brown said Heather Derenzy did an excellent job filling for a sick starter, Sue Casler.

Moore led the team with 28 serves, 10 spikes, 14 tips, and 15 blocks. Money hit in 15 of 15 spikes and had 20 good serves. Carrie Trudgeon had 17 tips, 34 sets and 64 bumps. Chris Schwartz had 17 spikes, 11 tips, and 44 bumps. Jamie Kaiser had 57 bumps, 24 sets, 11 spikes, and 12 serves. Derenzy added 11 good serves, 36 bumps, and 5 sets.

scored 27, Baynham 7, Bonamie 5, Moss 4, Mead 2, Schmidt 2, Lamie 2, and Doremire 2.

Resource Review

Under the authority of an administrative order, a permit may be issued allowing the possession of a deer killed on the highways of this state. These "road-kill" permits may be issued by the investigating peace officer under certain conditions:

(1) The operator of the vehicle involved has first option on the carcass. If the driver does not want it, it may be released to someone else, at the discretion of the investigating officer.

(2) Non-residents of the State of Michigan are not eligible, unless they intend to stay in the state for at least 30 days.

(3) A person can only receive one deer regardless of the number of deer involved in the accident.

(4) No permits for spotted fawns will be issued.

(5) Possession is limited to 30 days. No part of the deer shall be given to another.

Recently, bears were included in this procedure and may be possessed under similar circumstances.

No other bird or animal killed by a car may be possessed. Possession of such an animal is a violation of the law. Likewise, possession of a road killed deer or bear without a proper permit is a violation.

Junior Ron Bancroft was the Viking guard shown in an Avalanche photograph last week. The Avalanche incorrectly identified the player as sophomore guard Bud Ostrowski.

Call It Courtesy

Pipeline right-of-ways are popular areas for motorcycles, snowmobiles, three-wheelers and other off-road vehicles. They are also popular for skiing, horseback riding and other off-the-road activities.

You should know that the cleared lane over a pipeline belongs to the owner of the land.

The landowner has granted an easement permitting the line to be built and maintained, but the strip remains private property. Persons wishing to use pipeline right-of-ways must first obtain the landowner's permission.

Call it courtesy, but it's also the law.

Forbush Corners Hosts 1st
Ever State High School
Cross-Country Ski Finals

Forbush Corners, located off County Road 612 east of Frederic, was the site of the first high school cross-country ski championships held in the state of Michigan.

More than 40 high school boys and girls competed on an 8-kilometer course at Forbush on Saturday, Feb. 14.

The championships had been scheduled for the Grand Rapids area but lack of snow forced the state championships to be switched to Forbush.

Forbush offered great tracks for the championships and so many skiers enjoyed the course that the championships may be held again at Forbush next year.

The results of the boys and girls races were not immediately available.

Hanson Hills Michigan Cup
Marathon Draws 96 Skiers

On Sunday, January 25, 1987, Hanson Hills was again host for one of the Michigan Cup Series Cross Country Races. This race brings together some of the best skiers in the state.

This year 96 entries started the race as cold temperatures gave way to sunshine, making for near ideal racing conditions. Many hours were spent grooming the course into good shape. The racers were very appreciative of the grooming efforts and race organization, which should insure a bigger turnout next year.

This year's winner was Jon Hald-Bjorgum of Marquette with a time of 1:33:37. Jon had just won the 30 kilometer Grand Traverse Race on Saturday.

Top female finisher was Debbie Baker of Rochester with a time of 2:10:32.

Local finishers were Dick Fultz, 2nd in men's 36-40 (1:51:47), Matthew Vajda, 6th in men's 26-30 (1:51:49), Jim Gardiner, 7th in men's 26-30 (2:01:47), David Zigala, 4th in men's 18-25 (1:57:36), Tom Gardiner, 12th in men's 26-30 (2:10:40), and Brian Hutchins, 7th in men's 31-35 (2:20:41).

The race was sponsored by Grayling Holiday Inn, Grayling Hospitality House, Fabiano Brothers, Goodale's Bakery, Glen's Market, and Grayling McDonald's.

Ted Horning, Bob Kemp, and Dick Fultz groomed the trails and the Hanson Hills Ski Patrol and other volunteers helped with the race.

Mike and Tammy Cannoy of Grayling are the proud parents of a baby girl, Tara Ranae, born Feb. 1st. Tara weighed 8 lbs. 2 ozs. and is 20 inches long.

Miss Wanda Gabriel was guest of honor on Jan. 3, for a bridal shower given by her sister, Dawn Pasternak. Wanda received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Nunn, Patrick and Paula spent the weekend of January 30 in the Utica area where they visited his mother, Mrs. Florence Nunn and the whole family went to KoJo's at the RenCenter in Detroit to celebrate Holly Nunn's birthday. Holly is a student at Eastern Michigan University.

Those big smiles that you see on Lorna and George Morse are due to the unusual fact that they had two new granddaughters born only five hours apart, Bobbie Jo King, born to their daughter, Becky, at Mercy Hospital, Grayling, on Tuesday, February 3, 1987 at 2 p.m., and Michelle Rene, born to their son and wife, George and Andrea, in Heidelberg, Germany, on Wednesday, February 4, 1987, at 1 a.m. However the Morses found out about Michelle the same day as Bobbie because it was still 7 p.m. Tuesday here in Grayling when George called. Bobbie Jo weighed 5 lbs. 5 ozs. and Michelle weighed 7 lbs. 10 ozs. and was 19 1/2 inches long.

A note from Marilyn Longworth in Pasco County, Florida, says that Monday, February 2, was her last day as president of the United Way of Pasco County, having served her year. She had served for four previous years on the Board of Directors and still has two more years to serve. Replacing her as president is another former Crawford County resident, Mrs. Ann Hildebrand, wife of Kenn Hildebrand. They are the first women to hold the top positions in the Pasco County United Way. They were on a TV program and discussed arriving in Florida in the 70's from Crawford County. Afterward they received calls from people who were also from Michigan and have some of them now working as volunteers for United Way.

Mo McNamara flew from Traverse City to New York City for a long weekend with their daughter and family, Mary Liz and Rick Schlosser and to help Casey McNamara Schlosser celebrate his first birthday on Saturday, January 31, 1987.

Paul and Donna Thomson, John and Norma Naour, were accompanied by Donna's sister and husband, Kathy and Tom McEnhill of Muskegon, on a long weekend trip to Paradise Island and Nassau in the Bahamas. Mrs. Betty Bennett spent the last weekend in January on her annual trip to Howell to visit her sister, Dorothy Sdunek, and a daughter, Mrs. Lori Dugan, in Mason.

Stephanie Hindmarsh will be one of 14 contestants trying out in the Heart of Michigan Pageant in Kalkaska. It is a franchised pageant and the winner will be allowed to go on to the Miss Michigan pageant.

Some members of the Grayling High School graduating class of 1954 met for their annual get-together on Saturday night, January 31, 1987. The evening started with hors d'oeuvres at the Carl and Rose Hatfield home on North Down River Road. From there they went to Englund's Table for dinner and returned to the Hatfield's for dessert and an evening of visiting. Those attending were Jim and Phyllis Bond of Lansing, George and Rita McEvers, Bill and Nancy Cox, Jackie Lepsy, all of Grayling, and Caroline Golinick and her cousin from Lansing. They also received a telephone call from Tom Kearney from Lathrop Village.

Two Rules for Successful Aging

What is it that separates the elderly with non-organic conditions and closes them off from the stream of things? For the most part it seems to be a loss of communication with their surroundings. Frequently beset with problems, they neglect to keep up with the times. As they dislocate themselves in time, their standards and symbols lose meaning and there is a pathetic clinging to values to which these symbols were once appropriate.

The first rule of mental hygiene in aging is keeping open the channels of communication. It is insurance against getting lost and out of contact with younger age groups and with daily happenings. Also, one might hold the admonition of the psalmist: "A joyful mind maketh age flourishing; a sorrowful mind maketh spirit drieth up the bones." The watchword is that one must have something—some interest, some responsibility, some task—which will make him feel useful and feel that he is a part of things. Without this, the person will just sit.

The second axiom should be spread broadcast, namely that there is no necessary parallel between chronological and psychological old age. The maxim, "you are as old as you feel or think," has much to commend it. Autopsy often reveals brain changes which should have senile psychosis; yet the patient carried on in a responsible position right up to the end. The opposite of this is also true. Many senile manifestations are based upon the fact that the person has given up, has quit, and has failed to stay in the stream of current events for some reason unrecognized even by himself. Some people are even adversely affected consciously by the passage of time—a calendar neurosis which has serious consequences; they are allergic to that stark phase, "three score years and ten." This seeking out of a seat on the sidelines of life is demoralizing and the task of mental hygiene is to prevent it.

The New Age Movement Part 10 Education

Hal Lindsey has stated that government "schools have become the number-one target of the New Age 'evangelistic' efforts toward a one-world religion and government." Lindsey quotes John Dumpy in the Humanist magazine: "I am convinced that the battle for humankind's future must be waged and won in the public school classroom by teachers...The classroom must and will become an arena of conflict between the old and the new — the rotting corpse of Christianity, together with all its adjacent evils and misery, and the new faith of humanism..."

Educators Jack Canfield and Paula Klimek wrote in New Age magazine: "In a growing number of classrooms throughout the world, education is beginning to move into a new dimension. More and more teachers are exposing children to ways of contacting their inner wisdom and their higher selves...New Age education has arrived...an influx of spiritual teachings from the East, combined with a new psychological perspective in the West, has resulted in a fresh look at the learning process...and the purpose of life...Within the last five years we have also witnessed the birth of 'transpersonal education' — the acknowledgment of one's inner and spiritual dimensions — through working with such forms as dreams, meditating, guided imagery, biofeedback, centering, mandalas, and so forth."

Following the arrest of a mother for attempting to remove her daughter from a class which had objectionable reading material,

Fundamentalist Christians won a court victory. Liberal news media branded the case "Tennessee Scopes II trial" and branded the parents crazy fanatics. The Hawkins County School Board received support and guidance from "People for the American Way." At issue was the occult and antichristian material in the Holt Basic Reader series for grades two through eight. Children were given portions of plan stories like The Wizard of Oz, but along with the story were other teachings on witches, and they were required to write magic words and incantations. The teacher's manual gave instructions for out-of-body experiences and students were to leave their bodies and return to share their experiences. Instruction in the third-eye psychic power, mental telepathy, and the "scientific approach to the futuristic state of man's mind capabilities are all taught as mind science."

Parents, who did not object to The Diary of Anne Frank itself, did object to a segment of the story used to discredit religion in general and promote the one-world government. Attempted mind control is the deadly danger posed by the New Age Movement.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

She's just a little girl, about four or five. Recently, she knelt by her bed to say her nightly prayer. "God, do you have any new stories? We've heard all the old ones at Sunday School many times."

People in charge of teaching and preaching would do well to hear the little one's frustration and try to tell the old, old stories with new enthusiasm and creativity.

New Stories

But there's something more surfacing here. It's this: God tells NEW STORIES every day for those with eyes to see.

God tells new and current stories through people who "give a cup of cold water in His name," who touch the life of a young person on the skids; who nurse the aging in rest homes; who sit by offering damp towels for fevered brows in hospitals. God's NEW STORIES are all around us.

I have to believe that some of God's newest and greatest stories are still in the mind of God, just waiting for us to open our lives so he can tell the stories through us.

Yes, little one, God does have new stories. And through the likes of you, he will tell them. If God is permitted by our commitments.

Grayling Christian Women Plan 100th Anniversary of World Prayer Day

This year is the 100th anniversary of World Day of Prayer for all women of the world. This year's celebration will be held at St. Mary's Church on Friday, March 6th, at 1:00.

We need ladies who would be willing to take part in the program and we need women's costumes from Africa, Asia, Caribbean, Europe, Latin America, Middle East, the Pacific, and American dresses of the 1887, 1922, 1928, and 1945 eras. They do not have to be authentic.

Because this year is the 100th birthday celebration, we would like to wear costumes and make the program real special.

We will be having a rehearsal on Friday, February 20th, at 1:00 p.m. at St. Mary's Church, and invite you to be a part and to bring any costumes that you may have.

Please call Lora Gould, Elsie Jansen, Clara Sorenson, or Ann Morford if you have a costume that we can use. This program is for all Christian women throughout the world.

Cole Sings With Schuller's Crystal Cathedral Choir

Robert Cole

Robert F. Cole, of Flowers by Josie, accepted an invitation by Frederic Swann, Director and organist of Robert Schuller's Crystal Cathedral, to sing in the choir January 25th.

His message was "Positive Thinking Works Wonders". Over 3,000 individuals packed the Cathedral for the exuberating service. Segments of this services will be televised on the Hour of Power, February 15th and 22nd.

Bob and partner Ernie Dawson were in California attending a semi-annual gift show in Los Angeles.
